The Western States Forum:

- Established in 2006
- Held annually in June in Yreka, California
- An engineering practitioner's forum
- A venue for high-quality exchange of technical information
- Supporting better ITS deployment in rural areas
- Demonstrating how applications are being used in live situations – not only what worked, but what didn't work

Western States
Rural Transportation
Technology Implementers
Forum

The Western States Forum is for:

- Field engineers and maintenance staff
- System integration / networking engineers
- Wireless / communication technicians

The Western States Forum places high importance on:

TECHNICAL CONTENT

- How solutions were developed
- Focusing on applications that have been DEPLOYED
- How are these applications being used in live situations

The Western States Forum places high importance on:

DISCUSSION

- Attendance limited to facilitate small group discussion
- Extended time for presenters to encourage detailed technical discussions

The Western States Forum places high importance on:

TRANSPARANCY AND TRUST

- Presenters discuss success stories
- Discussion about deployment failures and problems
- Participants learn about what does and doesn't work and why
